

Marvin Ng
Consultant for Adamant Biomedical Investments

Educational background:

First Class Honours Degree in Microbiology, University of British Columbia (Canada)
Masters in Business Administration, Simon Fraser University (Canada)

Professional Experience:

Exxon Mobil, Singapore (1997-1999)

- IT Analyst in financial systems

Hewlett Packard, Singapore (1999-2000)

- Senior Financial Analyst
- Responsible for financial control of research and development

Singapore Economic Development Board, Singapore (2000-2002)

- Senior officer for European pharmaceutical and medical technology sectors
- Responsible for investment promotion and development of Singapore's biomedical sciences industry

Greener Grass Communications, Singapore (2002-present)

- Director and consultant to technology companies on public relations matters
- Co-editor of the Singapore Biotech Guide (2003-present)
- Co-editor of the Singapore Medical Engineering & Technology Guide (2009-present)
- Editor of the Thailand Biotech Guide (2006-present)

DN Venture Partners, Singapore/Germany (2002-present)

- Director and consultant to life sciences organisations on business development in Asia